New Tork, Dec. 11,—Gains outnumbered declines at the opening of today's stock market, but trading soon manifested irregular tendencies on the moderate heaviness of such leaders as Marine Preferred. ## COTTON MARKET QUIET DURING EARLY TRADING

New York, Dec. 11.—The cotton market was quiet during today's early trading, with operators apparently waiting for the government's estimate of the crop. The opening was steady at a decline of 3 points to an advance of 20 points, with near months relatively firm on further transferring of straddles or hedges to spring and summer deliveries. There was some buying on reports that more tonnage was being released for export trade, but the demand was supplied by scattered realizing, and early fluctuations were irresular. After easing off from 26.50c to 26.50c January railled to 26.47c, while March ruled between 25.17c and 25.25c, with the market about 2 points net lower to 3 points higher toward the end of the first hour.

Trading remained very quiet later in the morning. There seemed to be no particular nervousness over the probable showing or effect of the government estimate, but there was evidently enough uncertainty to check fresh business, although the reports of an increased export and domeatic inquiry for spots gave the market a fairly steady undertone. January ruled around 26.40c and March 25.20c shortly after midday, or about a point higher to 4 points lower.

The publication of the government or about a point higher to 4 points lower.

The publication of the government report was preceded by a flurry of liquidation during the early afternoon which sent the market about 25@35 points net lower, with January selling at 26.08c and March 24.90c. There weer slight railies just before the report was issued, sout the estimate of 11.700,000 bales was a shade above expectations and led to local realizing or liquodation. January broke to 25.40c and March to 24.40c, or about 85@39 points from last night's closing, but there was considerable trade buying on the decline, which helped to steady prices.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

New Orleans, Dec. 11.—The price of cotton fell 8918 points in the first half-hour of trading today under liquidation of long contracts from traders who wanted to even up over the government's estimate of the crop at 1 o'clock. It was a quiet market, with little fresh business.

It was a quiet market, with little fresh business.

Lower prices were maintained in a moderate way. Toward the middle of the session the trading months showed net losses of 8@22 points.

The downward trend continued. Just before 1 o'clock prices were 36@49 points under the close of yesterday.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON FUTURES CLOSING.

New Orleans, Dec. 11.—Cotton futures closed steady at a decline of 65@74 points: January, 25.35c: March, 24.00c; May. 23.27c; July. 22.62c: October, 20.40c.

During the first five minutes of trading $1 lowing announcement of the reprinces fell $52,88 points.

The estimate of 11,700,000 bales compared with the average expectation here of about 11,500,000.
